

For Immediate Release
Kimberlee Hodges, Marketing Manager
AngelouEconomics
512-225-9318
khodges@angeloueconomics.com

AngelouEconomics Continues to Expand its Team

Dr. Buzz Canup joins AE as President of Site Selection Services and Sherry Vance joins AE as Director of Project Management

Austin, Texas, February 24, 2005 – AngelouEconomics, the largest independent economic development consulting firm in the U.S., is pleased to announce the addition of two new team members, Buzz Canup and Sherry Vance. Dr. Buzz Canup will serve as President of Site Selection Services; and Ms. Sherry Vance will be Director of Project Management.

"We are excited to have Buzz and Sherry join our team," said Angelos Angelou, Founder and CEO of AngelouEconomics. "As President of Site Selection services, Buzz will allow us to broaden our site selection services outside of the high tech industry. Sherry's 20 years of economic development marketing and communications experience will serve as an asset when developing strategies for our clients."

Buzz brings over 30 years of experience in business and economic development to AngelouEconomics. Prior to joining AE, Buzz spent 20 years with Fluor Daniel (now Fluor Corporation), of which, the last several years he was the Managing Principal of the Global Location Strategies division. Buzz also served as the Vice President of Business Recruitment for Enterprise Florida where he directed and managed the recruitment of new business and industry investment into the State. From there, he spent two years with KPMG as a Senior Manager of Strategic Relocation and Expansion Services. Most recently, Buzz was President and CEO of Canup & Associates, a private consulting firm that provided a broad range of economic development and business related services. Buzz has performed site location studies for several of the most respected corporations and operations in the world, including Audi, Volkswagen, Michelin, Banner Pharmacap, Navistar, Honda, and Sumitomo Sitex.

Ms. Sherry Vance brings over 20 years of marketing, public relations, and economic development experience to the team. Prior to joining AE, Sherry was Director of Communications for the Mississippi Department of Economic and Community Development (Mississippi Development Authority). Sherry also served as the Director of Marketing & Communications for the Oklahoma Department of Commerce where she was responsible for the development of marketing and recruitment plans designed to attract businesses to the state. She has also served as an economic development liaison to various Governors during her career. In 2002, Sherry was named one of the Top 50 Women in Business. Sherry serves on the Board of Directors for International Asset Management Council (IAMC) and has held memberships in several other organizations, including International Association of Business Communications, Public Relations Society of America, International Economic Development Council, CoreNet, and Southern Economic Development Council.

About AngelouEconomics, Inc.

AngelouEconomics is the largest independent economic development consulting firm in the U.S. The firm specializes in the site selection needs of the technology industry and the communities seeking to recruit them. AE grows high-tech, businesses, and cities. The firm's clients include companies such as Dell Computer, Intel, AMD, Oracle, Citgo, and Applied Materials. The firm has assisted communities such as Orlando, Florida; Broome County, New York; Lincoln, Nebraska; Santa Fe, New Mexico; Winston Salem, North Carolina; Little Rock, Arkansas; and the States of New York, New Mexico, Texas, Delaware, and North Dakota by creating and implementing economic development plans. The company is located in Austin, Texas and can be found on the web at: www.AngelouEconomics.com.

###